The Progress Report document was required, but this isn't for a renewal. I had a Startup a few years ago, that has ended now. I was intending to submit this as a request for a new Startup. I thought I had selected that, and going back now to the submit allocation-request page, I can't seem to access anything other than working on this current application. Sorry for the confusion. Please let me know if I should re-submit everything.